ABOUT ASIAN UNDERGRADUATE SYMPOSIUM

The Asian Undergraduate Symposium (AUS) is a two-week programme organised by NUS College (NUSC) that brings together undergraduates from Singapore, Asian regions, with a special focus on ASEAN participants, for cultural exchange, networking, and capacity development. AUS 2024 will be co-organised with NUS Global Relations Office (GRO) as the NUS-AUN Summer Programme 2024.

Participants will engage with domain experts, be trained in project proposal writing, and nudged to collaborate with each other to propose projects based upon one of their chosen problem statements guided by the theme of the AUS symposium. The theme of AUS 2024 is Interconnected Communities.

Initiated in 2015, AUS aimed to build a platform for undergraduates across Asia from various disciplines to come together and engage in meaningful academic and intercultural exchange.

Now as part of the NUS-AUN Summer Programme, AUS in 2024 evolves to the current model which now includes more than 300 participants: NUSC undergraduates, tertiary students from Singapore, undergraduates from the Asian University Network (AUN), undergraduates from other ASEAN states and also participants from China, India, Japan and Korea. AUS 2024 takes the original AUS forward by both ensuring that meaningful academic and intercultural exchange remain while establishing a focused catchment of participants who are empowered to actualise proposed solutions to real-world problems.

MESSAGE FROM NUS PRESIDENT, PROF TAN ENG CHYE

Dear Participants,

Welcome to the 2024 Asian Undergraduate Symposium!

At NUS, we envision the Asian Undergraduate Symposium (AUS) as a cornerstone for fostering meaningful dialogues and collaborations among future leaders from across Asia. Our goal is to empower you with the knowledge, skills, and networks to address the complex challenges of a rapidly evolving world.

From this year, the AUS will be repositioned as part of the broader NUS - ASEAN University Network Summer Programme. As a region, ASEAN is brimming with potential - its combined economy is projected to grow by over 5% a year to become the fourth largest economy in the world by 2030. As a regional group, ASEAN has become a model for how diverse economies and communities at different stages of development can move forward and grow together.

AUS 2024 will focus on the theme of 'Interconnected Communities'. Participants will engage in an enriched, immersive curriculum comprising lectures, site visits and interactive workshops. Our unique I-4 Model of — Inspire, Ideate, Intercultural, Implement — has been carefully curated to take you through a transformative learning experience. You will be introduced to the principles of design thinking and open space technology, which can be applied to your project proposals and implementation plans. By sharing ideas, perspectives and working together to brainstorm solutions, you will build valuable cross-cultural skills and friendships across borders.

MESSAGE FROM NUS PRESIDENT, PROF TAN ENG CHYE

- It is most fitting that NUS College (NUSC) is the host and organizer of AUS 2024. NUSC takes pride in delivering a holistic and stimulating interdisciplinary education for its diverse global student body, equipping them with the skills to navigate and work effectively across boundaries. Students who are eager to learn, willing to be stretched and excited to make a difference, benefit immensely from an NUSC experience. I am thus pleased that through the AUS, NUSC will have the opportunity to extend this unique educational experience to a wider group of students across Asia.

AUS 2024 would not be possible without the unwavering support of our partner universities, whose collaboration has been instrumental in shaping an inclusive and diverse platform for academic and cultural exchange. I would like to thank our partners for working with us to advance regional co-operation and student development.

And to all our participants, I encourage you to immerse yourselves fully in the opportunities presented. This is a time to explore, to engage with peers, to broaden your horizons, and to build friendships and networks. I wish you a fun and fulfilling symposium.

- Prof Tan Eng Chye
President, National University of Singapore

MESSAGE FROM DEAN NUS COLLEGE, PROF SIMON CHESTERMAN

Dear Participants,

It is my pleasure to welcome you to our NUS College campus, and to the 2024 Asian Undergraduate Symposium (AUS). This year, we continue our tradition of fostering dialogue and collaboration among young leaders from across Asia, focusing on the theme "Interconnected Communities." This theme reflects our collective experience and aspirations, emphasising the importance of unity and cooperation in addressing global challenges.

AUS 2024 is closely aligned with NUS College's vision of nurturing engaged learners who are courageous and innovative in their pursuit of solutions for the world. Our mission is to create a community where students can cross boundaries and stretch one another to achieve their fullest potential. This symposium embodies these values by providing a platform for you to explore diverse topics such as climate sustainability, cultural heritage, and social inclusion.

This year's programme is distinguished by its immersive approach. Through lectures, site visits, and project workshops, you will gain practical insights and develop skills that are crucial for your future leadership roles. Our esteemed speakers, including several of our accomplished alumni, will share their experiences and insights, enriching your understanding and inspiring your aspirations. The inclusion of the hackathon format, where up to five teams will receive grant support for their projects, underscores our commitment to translating ideas into impactful actions.

MESSAGE FROM DEAN NUS COLLEGE, PROF SIMON CHESTERMAN

- I would like to express my deepest gratitude to NUS President, the NUS Global Relations Office, and our network of university partners for their invaluable contributions. Not forgetting as well the NUSC team, whose dedication and support have been crucial in making this event possible, ensuring that it remains a vibrant and enriching experience for all participants.

As you engage with the symposium, I encourage you to embrace this opportunity to learn, connect, and innovate. May you leave AUS 2024 with new perspectives, lifelong friendships, and a renewed commitment to making a positive impact in your communities.

Warm regards,

Prof Simon Chesterman
Dean, NUS College

MESSAGE FROM AUS 2024 ACADEMIC LEAD, DR LIM CHEE HAN

A big welcome to the Asian Undergraduate Symposium 2024!

Our theme this year is “Interconnected Communities”, an aspiration no less, but one utterly worthy of aspiring to.

The year 2019 was pivotal to a common humanity, for few events in recent history has affected each and every one of us the way that COVID has. Some of us have lost loved ones, and each one of us has done our part in ensuring that others do not.

As we look back on how the world survived the great epidemic, and continue to deal with international conflict, economic protectionism, and civil unrest, one thing remains clear: that humanity can deal with anything if we work together.

The symposium is one such event for us to do just that; you will be meeting fellow participants from the ASEAN nations and other parts of Asia, and for two weeks, experience what it is like to work together in learning from guest experts, immerse in learning journeys, and ideate projects that would not only help protect our natural heritage, but also help fellow human beings who do not have what we have, to lift themselves above their plights.

We shall forge strong and long-lasting relationships, not only between participants across national boundaries, but also between the haves and the have-nots. So let us all come together and pool our resources, not to build a taller wall, but instead, a longer table.

I wish you an enriching experience at the symposium, and most importantly, remember to keep in touch!

Dr Lim Chee Han
Academic Lead

MESSAGE FROM AUS 2024 STUDENT COUNCIL CO-CHAIRS

Greetings!

We, Le Mai Tan Dat (Daniel) and Heidi Ng, are honoured to be the chairpersons of the Asian Undergraduate Symposium 2024 (AUS 2024) and extend our warmest welcome to all AUS 2024 delegates! As the AUS 2024 chairpersons, we are planning a phenomenal symposium. With our team of dedicated student councillors, we have been working tirelessly to present the best possible AUS!

Brace yourself for a two-week symposium filled with an abundance of knowledge, passion-filled projects, and enduring friendships! Look forward to experiential learning opportunities, insightful site-visits, mentored group projects, plenty of fun, and most importantly, the chance to curate your own stories. This year's theme is "Interconnected Communities", and we can't help but be excited at the multitude of ideas soon to be sparked from your newfound connections and sharings.

What has drawn us together is an unwavering passion and resolve to be part of a solution our communities need. At AUS, we bring you the opportunity to learn about and aspire for something close to your hearts and homes... be it about Diversity and Inclusion, Needs and Wants, or Climate Change and Sustainability — there is an opportunity for all of you to create magic. We hope to make AUS 2024 a space for you to embrace, cherish, and celebrate your ideas.

In the meantime, we encourage you to follow the spaces on our Instagram and Facebook pages! Not only would you find the freshest updates on AUS 2024, you might even spot yourself in the coming days! We look forward to welcoming you in person!

Warmly,
Daniel and Heidi
AUS 2024 Student Council Co-Chairs
